BOND ISSUE COMPLICATED BY PRESIDENT

Several Patman Bill Backers Say Veto is To Be Over-ridden

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—The dispute over bonus payment was complicated further today by word passed in informed circles that President Roosevelt had expressed determination to reject any proposal for full and immediate cash payment of the $2,200,000,000.

Meanwhile, conflicting claims of strength came from Patman bill leaders after another strategy meeting to canvass votes. Some predicted flatly that Roosevelt's veto would be over-ridden; others were still pessimistic.

The meeting was attended by Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired, former Marine Corps commandant, who proposed that if the bill was defeated the veterans should be organized into a political machine, similar to the Grand Army of the Republic following the Civil War.

Claims Enough Votes
A positive claim of sufficient votes to over-ride tomorrow's veto came from Senator McCarran (D-Nev.). Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) was non-committal.

"This is a preliminary skirmish," the Oklahoman told newspapermen. He denied that was a concession of defeat.

Thomas said the bonus forces might be ready to vote in the senate tomorrow, shortly after the House vote, but several senators would debate the veto message before the ballot.

"There will be no effort to ram the bill through or to delay it," he said. "We are ready whenever the senate is."

House Democratic leaders decided today to block any attempts to debate the bonus before a vote on whether to override the veto.

An informed source said the American Legion probably would press for a new bonus bill if the Patman bill veto is upheld.

The new bill would seek to eliminate the currency inflation aspects of the Patman measure and meet objections found in the president's message, as far as possible.

Robinson for Bonus
This disclosure, shared interest with a remark by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, holding out apparent hope to those who want to see some bonus legislation passed.

He said yesterday he would like to see some bonus legislation "worked out and passed" after the Patman bill had been killed and added that he would be glad to "contribute" toward that end.

"But I don't know whether it is possible or not," he said.
Whether Robinson, an administration leader, had in mind some compromise that would not call for payment in full immediately was not disclosed. But the White House was described in informed quarters as opposed to any plan for such full payment.

Visit Was In Vain
These informants gave this version of the visit the bonus "steering committee" of legislators paid yesterday to Roosevelt in a vain attempt to get him to change his mind about vetoing the Patman bill tomorrow.

Roosevelt said he would be glad to receive, read and consider their statement urging him to sign the bill, but that he could not sign it. Then somebody asked: "Will you sign any bill for full cash payment of the bonus?"

The answer was said to be an emphatic "no."

After this session, congressional leaders pushed ahead with their plans for a joint session of the two houses at 1:30 A. M. Central Standard time, tomorrow, at which Roosevelt will read his veto of the Patman bill.

Republican Objects
A resolution for the joint session sped through the house of representatives yesterday. In the senate, a similar move was halted temporarily by the objection of Senator Steiwer (R-Ore.), but Democratic leaders foresaw no trouble in getting it through in time.

In objecting, Steiwer said: "The constitution doesn't contemplate that the president should participate in legislative matters. I see no reason why the senate should be at the joint session. It is not involved unless the house overrides the veto."

AMBOY WIDOW IS PLANNING SUIT FOR INSURANCE

Mrs. Catherine Leake of Amboy through her attorney Edward A. Jones, was today reported to be preparing to file with Circuit Clerk Edwin S. Rosecrans suit against the Provident Mutual Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., in two actions for damages totalling $8,000. Mrs. Leake is the beneficiary of insurance policies carried on the life of her late husband, Ray Leake.

The suits being prepared by State's Attorney Edward Jones will charge that the insurance company refused to pay double indemnity on policies for $3,000 and $5,000 carried by the deceased at the time of his sudden death in Amboy on the morning of May 25, 1934. Death was the result of the discharge of a rifle in the work shop in the rear of the Leake residence and the verdict of the coroner's jury was one of accidental death. The face of each policy has been paid the widow the bill will state.

Two other suits instituted by Mrs. Leake have been settled, it will be indicated, these being based on accident insurance policies totalling $6,000 with eastern insurance companies.

AMERICANISM VS NRA-ISM BATTLE OF THE PRESENT

—GOV. EUGENE TALMADGE

Georgia's Executive Speaks to Great Chicago Crowd

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—Denouncing the New Deal recovery program, Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, one of the administration's chief opponents, told an audience that the principal fight in America is, and that "Americanism is going to win out."

Addressing a packed 28 forum at the University of Chicago last night, Talmadge characterized NRA-ism as "a mixture of Communism, frenzied finance, and wet nursing."

"Americanism is going to win out," the Georgia Democrat and potential leader of a third party movement said. "The man to lead the banner will realize that a party platform is sacred, and that the constitution of the United States is greater than any man or set of men in this union."

"Don't let Communism run riot in this land," Talmadge pleaded. "Don't sell your birthright for a mess of pottage. What we need in America is to get back to character, back to integrity, back to religion."

The only economic fundamentals in this world, he asserted, are "honesty, hard work and saving."

$12 Hogs Quoted in Chicago Today; Sixth Time in History of Stockyards That Level Reached in May

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—Twelve dollar hogs were quoted here today in the Chicago stockyards. Only six times in the history of the local yards have hogs reached this level during May.

Adding the processing tax of $2.25 per hundred weight to hogs which sold shortly after trading opened at a top price of $10.00 buyers were paying $12.25 per hundred weight for 200 to 260 lb. hogs.

HUNDREDS BEING DRIVEN OUT OF HOMES BY FLOOD

Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana Lowlands Menaced by High Waters

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 21.—(AP)—Hundreds of families in Oklahoma and Texas moved to higher ground today as flood crests rolled toward their lowland homes.

With the highest water expected here tonight, officials sponsored the removal of 300 families from the bottoms of the North Canadian river as a precaution against an increase in the death toll, now standing at 13 in Texas, six in Oklahoma and one in Kansas.

The women in the families, most of whom are living in makeshift shacks, bagged up emergency supplies for their stay in a tent city on higher ground. R. J. Benzel, Red Cross director, told the men to remain on their jobs. Provision was made for safe storage of their heavy goods.

At Tulsa, more than a dozen families quit the lowlands of the Arkansas river, which was nearing flood stage.

West of Dallas, 16 families were forced out of their homes when a levee surrendered to the terrific surge of flood, which inundated a thousand acres.

Near Flood Stage.
Fearful of the rising water, farmers in Austin, Waller, Fort Bend and Brazoria counties in Texas left their homes along the Brazos river, less than two feet below flood stage.

After Oklahoma City police, county Red Cross and National Guard officers pooled their forces to sidestep a repetition of the sudden disaster caused by the North Canadian's outbreak of 1932, today's removal was dispatched with military precision. Trucks, blankets and cots were sent from Fort Sill.

HITCH-HIKER IS SEEKING KIDNAP-ED WIFE TODAY

Granite City, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—Police today searched for Mrs. Walter McKinney, 23, whose husband reported she was kidnapped last night by a motorist who had given them a ride. The couple has been married three months.

McKinney, an unemployed telephone lineman living at Venice, Ill., reported the abductor drove away with his wife after sending him into a drug store at Nameoki for a package of gum. As he came out from the drug store he saw the car driving away and heard his wife cry out, he said.

Mrs. McKinney was described as being 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds and blond. The motorist, who indicated during the ride he was employed in St. Louis, was described by McKinney as 35 years old and 5 feet 8 inches tall.

Mrs. McKinney formerly lived at Hannibal, Mo., where she has a 3-year-old child by a former marriage.

"HUNGER MARCH" TO CAPITOL IS HELD IN CHECK

Demonstrators Forbidden Permit to Parade in Springfield Today

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—City police today told leaders of more than a thousand persons assembled here for a relief demonstration that they would not be permitted to march to the State House.

Chief Carl F. Nuess notified George Allard, local leader of the Illinois Workers Alliance, that the men and women could meet in a park but would not be permitted to carry out their plans to camp in Springfield until relief stations are reopened.

In growing numbers, the demonstrators waited at the alliance's downtown headquarters while the leaders debated whether to proceed to the capitol grounds.

Also present was Karl Lochner of Chicago, a leader of the unemployment council there. Officials of the alliance expressed the fear that trouble might break out if Lochner attempted a rival demonstration.

Messages to Members
Undecided about what to do, the demonstrators sent telegrams to members of the house saying:

"State and city authorities refused permission to hold parade against sales tax. Can we see you at entrance of house in 20 minutes?"

The telegrams were signed by persons living in the districts of the individual representatives addressed.

Alliance leaders organized their own police force, headed by Kempton Williams of Springfield, to maintain order and prevent disturbances. They said Lochner's followers were planning to carry Communist banners if the parade started. The men who called the "hunger march" protested against the presence of the Chicagoan.

During the morning, additional truckloads of unemployed persons arrived in Springfield, apparently coming from all directions.

Lochner, as chairman of the Illinois Unemployment Council, said he was trying to force immediate restoration of relief and was opposing the sales tax increase, asking that funds be raised by taxes on inheritances, incomes and the Chicago Board of Trade.

The same demands are made by the workers alliance.

The court upheld the verdict returned by the jury awarding $2,500 damages for the death of the 14-year-old boy.

A motion for a new trial in the damage action brought by Louis Plock against Herman Albers, Palmyra township farmer, was granted by Judge Edwards today. A jury two weeks ago returned a verdict of $800 in favor of the plaintiff in the trial in the circuit court.

WITHHOLDING OF FEDERAL TAXES UNPRECEDENTED

Treasury Officials in Washington Watch Developments in Ill.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—Republican legislators today were ready to introduce resolutions proposing that Illinois citizens and corporations pay their federal taxes into the state treasury, to be used for unemployment relief.

The duplicate resolutions were in the hands of Rep. Clinton Searle of Rock Island and Senator Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton Republicans.

They charged that Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, and other Washington officials have discriminated against Illinois, one of the largest payers of federal taxes, in favor of other states.

"The unprecedented action of the federal bureaucracy is reducing the sovereign state of Illinois to a vassal province by the unfair allocation of the tax payers' money of the citizens of Illinois," said the resolution, proposing that:

"All citizens of the state of Illinois be ordered and directed to pay into the treasury of the state of Illinois all taxes assessed against any persons or corporation by the federal government."

"Said funds to be used for * * * supporting the unemployed * * * until such time as the state of Illinois shall receive the same proportionate benefit from the federal relief administration as its accorded more favored states."

CAPITAL ALERT.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—While Federal relief administrator Harry L. Hopkins continued today to say he had "absolutely no comment to make" on the Illinois unemployment relief situation, legal officials of the treasury and the internal revenue bureau expressed deep interest but no opinions concerning proposals of state Representative Clinton B. Searle, Rock Island Republican, that Federal moneys to be collected from Illinois citizens be impounded for relief purposes.

The Searle bill was to be introduced in the state House today. It proposed that the people of Illinois be directed to pay into the state treasury "all moneys owing to the Federal government, such funds to be used immediately for relief purposes."

Searle said State Senator Thomas P. Gunning, also a Republican, would introduce an identical resolution in the upper branch of the General Assembly.

Without Precedent
Treasury and internal revenue bureau legal officials, although saying that they were following the Searle resolution with considerable interest, insisted that no future action could be predicted in case of

Mysterious Auto is Mentioned in Death of Legendary Hero

Wool, Dorsetshire, Eng., May 21.—(AP)—Whether or not a mysterious black automobile had anything to do with the death of the almost legendary "Lawrence of Arabia," a coroner's jury of seven men decided today that he met death accidentally.

Corporal Ernest Catchpole testified he saw Col. T. E. Lawrence swerve his motorcycle at the time of the accident May 13 to avoid an automobile colliding immediately with a butcher boy on a bicycle. Lawrence, he said, was riding along the Dorsetshire country road at a speed of from 30 to 60 miles an hour.

A lad who had been a companion of the butcher boy testified he did not see the automobile described by Catchpole.

TVA LAWS CALLED 'HAPHAZARD' BY COMPTROLLER

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—Comptroller General J. R. McCarl today criticized before the House military committee the Tennessee Valley Authority act as "haphazard legislation" that does not stipulate whether a government agency must make purchases through competitive bidding or under open contracts.

The committee is holding hearing on a bill to expand TVA activities. McCarl was called to testify on an audit by his office which took exception to many TVA expenditures.

Before the comptroller appeared, the hearing was enlivened by clashes and threats of physical combat between Representative May (D-Ky.), a foe of TVA, and Representative Maverick (D-Tex.), who is staunchly supporting the power development agency.

Declining to become involved in the controversy waging in committee over the legislation, McCarl said the difficulty with the TVA act and similar legislation is that it does not specifically state whether competitive bids or open contracts are to be required.

He said he would propose an amendment to the TVA act to compel the agency to use competitive bids.

"We have been going far enough in this haphazard way," he asserted.

CALIFORNIAN IN SHARP REVERSAL OF FORM TODAY

Lawson Little in a Spectacular Performance Today

St. Annes-on-the-Sea, Eng., May 21.—(AP)—In a sharp form reversal, contrasting yesterday's floundering exhibition, William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco, the defending champion, gave a spectacular performance today in eliminating Eric Martin Smith, a former titleholder, in the second round of the British amateur golf championship. Little won 4 and 3.

The husky Californian was one of four Americans who survived the second day of play. Four other invaders from the United States were sent to the sidelines.

Besides Little the other winners were T. Sufferin (Tommy) Teller Jr., of Piping Rock, L. I., who shot the last six holes in two under par to eliminate Andrew Jameson, Jr., former Scottish champion; Captain A. Webster-Bullock of Monterey, Calif., and Robert Sweeney, a former New Yorker now living in London.

The defeated foreign contenders were John Forsman of New York; Robert W. Knowles Jr. of Brookline, Mass.; Guy Hayes of North Andover, Mass.; and Robert Stranahan of Toledo, O.

Dan R. Topping and Richard M. Chapman of Greenwich, Conn. and Harvey Shaffer of New York, the other members of the American contingent, were not scheduled to play today.

HORNER BUTT OF SEVEREST ATTACK TODAY

Republicans Charge Gov. Horner Falsified in His Radio Appeal

BULLETIN

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—Indicating the sales tax bill couldn't be passed with the emergency majority, the House vote this afternoon was 88 to 49 when all names had been called the first time. The administration had picked up three votes.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—The three per cent sales tax-rebate financing bill was called up for another vote in the Illinois house at 11:10 A. M. today. Republican representatives stopped their filibuster, thirty minutes after the session opened, as debate opened on the fifth attempt to get the house to pass the administration bill.

Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, Democratic floor leader, called up the bill after Republicans had filibustered half an hour in their prolonged effort to get consideration of legislation for the permanent registration of voters.

House leaders renewed their attempts to pass the sales tax bill with 102 votes, the two-thirds emergency majority, and place the sales tax increase in effect immediately.

Mustered 90 Wednesday

Last Wednesday, on the fourth attempt at house passage, Governor Horner's supporters obtained 90 votes, to 56 in opposition, for the administration plan to satisfy the selling of federal administrator E. L. Hopkins that federal funds will not be given Illinois until the legislature contributes to the support of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

With Mayor Kelly and Pat Nash, Chicago Democratic leaders, on hand, it was possible the emergency clause might be stricken, permitting the tax to become effective July 1 if passed by 77 votes, in case the two-thirds majority cannot be obtained with Republican support.

Horner Denounced
Opening the debate, Frank W. McClure, anti-Horner Democrat of Abingdon, demanded that relief be financed by rewriting appropriation bills to save the amount required. He insisted that additional taxes aren't necessary and said the administration had "pleaded guilty" to opposition charges by amending the sales tax bill. He also pointed out that the relief commission has ordered a reduction in its rolls.

Horner's Sunday night radio address in behalf of the sales tax increase was denounced by Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Chicago Republican, who was indirectly referred to in the speech.

Schnackenberg repeated his statements that the state treasury had money available for the relief commission.

"The governor's speech was full of deliberate falsehoods and misrepresentations, and constituted an incitement to riot," said LeRoy M. Green, Rockford Republican

Spread of Communism

Dr. Benjamin W. Black, of Oakland, Calif., chairman of the United States Committee of Public Affairs, said "uprisings which today harass industrial communities in the nation are not, in a proper sense, strikes at all."
"They are planned Communist revolutions, directed by radicals in the name of labor and working from within the unions," he said. "The Communist movement is spreading, continually gaining a stronger foothold."

Toll Bridge Over Miss.
at East Saint Louis

East St. Louis, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Capt. B. M. Harlow, district U. S. Army engineer, today had under advisement the application of the St. Clair county board of supervisors to build a toll bridge across the Mississippi from East St. Louis to St. Louis.

The last public hearing on the proposal was devoted yesterday to protests by river men against the present design of the bridge. They said that the Missouri span of 134 feet should be widened to at least 645 feet to permit safe navigation of river craft. Engineers said the span could be widened without additional expense.

He tried to climb to safety on a pole in the center of the lot, but the animal, breaking loose its heavy chains, gored him three times with its tusks.

the misinformation sent out by Republican leaders through a Republican press."

O'Neill described Green's speech as "subterfuge x x x full of misinformation."

As the personal, vitriolic debate continued, Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville resumed the Republican attack upon Horner and described the headquarters of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission as a "den of thieves." He charged the IERC with "graft, corruption and inefficiency."

Charged "Theft" Lyons branded as "thievery" the unseating of Senator Arthur J. Bidwell, River Forest Republican.

Thomas P. Sennett of Rock Island, former Democratic floor leader, took the floor in an effort to remove some of the bitterness.

"The bill we are now considering is not perfect but it is the best law that can be enacted," he said.

"The Horner administration has been characterized by economy to the point where injury has been worked to many of those in our institutions. The weakness of this administration is that it has been too economical. Yet you charge the governor with extravagance. The facts don't support you."

The roll call was started after the debate had lasted more than two and a half hours. After Henry D. Sparks of Shelbyville and Maurice O. Kalahar of Bloomington, Republicans, had spoken the "previous question" was moved and Adamowski closed the debate for the administration.

At that time, more than a thousand "hunger marchers" forbidden to stage a relief demonstration, were marching by the State House under a police escort to an outlying park.

Adamowski defended the governor, declared the relief situation is critical and said the sales tax is the only solution.

Adamowski was as bitter as the Republicans.

"G. O. P. no longer means Grand Old Party," he said. "It means Grand Old Pussyfooters." He charged Lyons was campaigning for secretary of state and deplored the attacks on the governor.

WRONG END TO

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

HE trouble with life, Mark Twain argued, is that it is wrong end to. If he were making a world, he said, he would make the sun shine at night, when it is needed, not in the day when we do not need it.

Life, he insisted, ought to begin with old age, go on through the middle period, and end in golden youth; the dessert at the end of the banquet! As it is, it begins with romance and ends with rheumatism. As a boy he was all the time on the lookout for invitations, but they did not arrive. In old age, when he was tired, buried in luxurious lethargy, he had more invitations than he knew what to do with.

The whole scheme of things is hind part before, he declared. To a boy a dollar is a dizzy delight, he can buy a lot of fun with it. To an old man who has the dollar there is no fun worth buying.

In the same way, fame comes to a man, if it comes at all, when he has done his work, and does not need it, when he is wise and does not want it, when, alas, he is old and alone and cannot share it.

In youth we are full of adventure, but ignorant, rash, unwise, and easily make a mess of things. In old age we may be wise, we certainly are cautious and afraid of adventure—so we do not do it!

A young man has temptation without character, and energy without virtue no wonder he makes all sorts of mistakes. An old man has character without temptation, and virtue when he has least need of it.

In middle life we work like a pack mule, scrimp, scrape and save up for old age. When it comes we are feeble, creaky and fit for little out to sit in the sun. Life does put the cart before the horse.

In short, all our days we are learning a little sense, by the difficult process of hard knocks and trial by error. No sooner have we learned how to live than it is all over, and we have to pass on.

It may have been a funny fancy of Mark Twain, but it has a point in it, and a tiny sting too. What if life were the other way around? As a wise Cockney put it: "Wot's the use of anything? Nothink!"

Harry and Ann Argue Over Child

Los Angeles, May 21—(AP)—Ann Harding, screen star and her former husband, Harry Bannister, New York stage actor, neared a showdown today in their court fight over custody of their six-year-old daughter, Jane.

Bannister's attorneys obtained a court order yesterday directing Miss Harding to appear May 28 to show cause why she should not be restrained from removing the child from jurisdiction of the California court.

"I don't know where anyone got the idea I was planning on taking Jane out of the state," the actress replied. "I am now busy in pictures again and will be for some months to come. These moves are just as absurd as everything else they are trying to do to me."

Bannister's second legal move was to have his ex-wife ordered in to court May 29 to show cause why she should not be compelled to give her deposition in his action to gain control of their child.

Rev. Barnett Addresses Meeting of W. C. T. U. Friday

The W. C. T. U. held their monthly meeting in the Christian church, Friday May 17. The president, Miss Calle Morgan presided.

The opening song was "It must be settled right." Miss Flora Seals conducted the very helpful devotional period. "What A Friend We Have in Jesus" was sung in unison.

Miss Seals read from the 6th Chapter of Matthew, and part of the 55th Psalm, interspersed with poems appropriate to the lesson, which closed with prayer. All joined in singing "Some Glad Day."

The leading topic was "Health and Citizenship." Rev. J. A. Barnett gave the address on "Citizenship."

In part he said: "Prohibition has met defeat, but there is one organization that still stands firm, in defending a righteous cause. That is the W. C. T. U. I quote, 'by their fruits ye shall know them.' The liquor traffic does not bear good fruit. Some of our largest and best hospitals do not use alcohol to take inwardly. We have already come to see the evil results of the change the government has made. If this terrible tree of intemperance is to be cut down, we must get to work. The fruits of this tree have always been drunkenness, poverty, ill health and broken homes. Can you think of anything good that's ever come from the liquor traffic? Those who are enriched by it, care not what the result will be. We had more prosperity and better homes during prohibition. Prohibition never had the sympathy or support it deserved. I believe we should be hopeful that all will be better if we press on, looking to our Heavenly Father for help in the carrying on of our work."

Little Nancy Moeller sang beautifully, "Jesus Loves Me," accompanied by her mother on the piano.

Mrs. Frey put on display a beautiful holychock, she made for the membership campaign, the holychock is the state flower.

A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. Alma Foster and Mrs. Emma Thompson with Nina Holmes as pianist.

Miss Morgan spoke on the topic, "Health." Health week began May 1st. She had literature for distribution also rainbow leaflets. The state membership program closes May 31st.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were each given and approved. Miss Weinbrenner offered her thanks to the union for flowers and expressions of sympathy in the passing of her mother, Mr. A. Robbins.

Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Thompson sang a duet, "Let A Little Sun Shine In." Rose Mary McClean recited "What Is Home, Without A Mother?" Nancy Moeller sang, "God Loves Me So." The committee who had prepared the splendid program were: Miss Carrie Swartz and Mrs. McNeil. Kate Plant read a letter she received from Miss Dorothy Jones, Missionary in China, acknowledging the receipt of the Union Signal which the union has sent her the past two years.

Meeting closed with prayer, offered by Mrs. Missman.

Following is the contents of Dorothy Jones' letter:

Chunking, W. China, March 28, 1935

"Dear Friends: "Going through this pile of unanswered letters, I find yours among others which should have been answered long ere this, but you will understand. I surely appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending me that 'Temperance paper,' and fully appreciate what that band of Christian workers are doing in the homeland and other lands to stamp out that dread enemy. One's heart is grieved as you think of conditions in the homeland. Those advertisements for cigarettes and intoxicating drinks indicating an educational program is needed. We are in the midst of a fight against opium in this country. General Ching Kai Shek and his wife are with us, and have ordered the closing of all opium dens.

Hospitals are opened for the opium addicts. Satan's power is seen everywhere, but praise God, the power of Our Saviour is far greater.

We serve one who conquers. I do hope this will be a blessed year in your work.

Yours in service,
Dorothy Jones"

Popular Couple to Wed on Thursday

The marriage of Miss Thais Meyer to Oliver L. Gehant Jr., will take place in St. Mary's church.

West Brooklyn, Ill. at 8:30 Thursday morning with Rev. Raymond Horner officiating. Both the participating parties are well and favorably known throughout Lee county and are prominent in the social and business life of their community.

Both are graduates of St. Mary's and West Brooklyn high school. The bride is a graduate, also, of Dixon high school while the groom is a graduate of Amboy high school. Miss Meyer completed her school work at Aurora with a course at Metropolitan Business College.

Mr. Gehant is one of the best known athletes in the county, being somewhat of a star in basketball with the Amboy high school team three years ago and also being a member of the foot ball squad at that school. In baseball, as a member of the West Brooklyn team in 1933, he was selected for third base on the All-Star team of the Illinois Valley League. Again in 1934 as a member of the Compton team, his name appeared on the All-Star list of the same league.

He represents the third generation in the banking business in his home town as he is employed by the H. F. Gehant Banking Co. founded by his grandfather in 1897, where his father and two uncles now preside as managing officers. F. W. Meyer, father of the bride, is president of the bank, having succeeded to the position upon the death of the founder eight years ago.

A happy future is predicted for these young people.

The banquet was sponsored by the Young Women's Missionary Society and was prepared and served by the Brotherhood of the church. The table decorations were in pink and green, with artistic bouquets of tulips and lilies. A splendid program of dinner music was given by the Sunday school orchestra under the direction of Earl Sennett.

At the conclusion of the banquet, Miss Erda Glessner, president of the local Y. W. M. S. introduced Mrs. L. W. Walter as toastmistress for the evening. The following program was then enjoyed by all.

Vocal selections Shirley Cooper, Donna Hanneken
"Our Daughters" Mrs. Robert Fulton
Quartette Selections Eva Lieving, Emma Stein, Ruth Leperd, Edna Weyant
"Our Mothers" Catherine Hahn
Piano solo Mrs. H. M. Edwards
Address, "Through the Window" Mrs. Wm. J. Boatman
Song, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" Audience

Following the piano solo, the toastmistress with an appropriate introductory story, called on Rev. Walter for a few remarks which were much enjoyed. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Wm. J. Boatman, of Murphysboro, who is state president of the Illinois Young Women's Missionary Society. A few of her thoughts were:

Does the young mother of today see her child growing up among the right influences and surroundings?

Does the child, in turn, find in the young mother the necessary sympathy and understanding?

Then the older mother. Is she satisfied that her daughter is all she had hoped for as a daughter, and as a young mother? Can the older mother, the modern young mother, and the child of today, live together happily, fully appreciating one another? Mrs. Boatman is a very able speaker, and her address held the close attention of her audience.

Just before the closing song, Mrs. Walter presented Miss Glessner, the local president, with a life membership pin and certificate, a gift from the Y. W. M. S. The happy evening concluded with a song, and the missionary benediction repeated by the audience.

EASY WAY TO RELIEVE PHILIPPINE TANGLE

Something that deserves that over-worked title, "epoch-making," seems to be happening on the other side of the Pacific ocean these days, and we are not giving it quite as much thought as it deserves.

The Philippines are in the process of gaining their freedom. They are getting it peacefully, without bloodshed, because the power which has ruled them for a generation is getting out voluntarily. History contains no precedent for such action.

The 10-year independence plan seems to have won Philippine approval by an overwhelming vote. There remains, then, only the task of getting through the transition period as well as possible. Within a comparatively short time the adventure which began when Dewey's guns battered the Spanish fleet into so much scrap iron will be ended forever.

Yet we need not think that, because the die has at last been cast, our own responsibilities are ended.

For the 10 years of the transition period, the United States still remains responsible for protection of the islands. Congress recently passed a law authorizing appointment of an American military mission to the Philippines. America will retain the right to intervene in island affairs until the decade is up.

Now there is no sense in denying that our relations with Japan are somewhat strained. There is also no sense in denying that there are some Japanese who would like to see the Philippines pass under Japanese domination. It is perfectly possible that a combination of these things might lead us into an extremely difficult situation, even after we have formally begun the task of getting out of the islands.

Raymond Leslie Buell, discussing the situation for the Foreign Policy Association, suggests that there are four things the United States can do to ease this situation.

He suggests the granting of independence now, instead of 10 years hence, to avoid the difficult transitional period; signing of a reciprocity agreement between the United States and the Philippines, to save the islanders from economic collapse; employment by the new Philippine republic of expert advisers nominated by some such body as the League of Nations; and an international agreement among Pacific powers to guarantee neutralization of the islands.

In granting the Philippines their freedom, we are trying to do two things: do justice to the islanders, and rid ourselves of a potentially embarrassing entanglement. It may be that a program such as Mr. Buell suggests would do the job better than the one now being followed.

It would be an ironic stroke of fate if the "Philippine question" should involve us in trouble after we had formally started to withdraw.

LATEST ARYAN WISDOM

The insane follies into which people can be led by race prejudice are strikingly illustrated—once again—by recent happenings in Germany.

Julius Streicher, mouthpiece for the extreme anti-Jewish section of the Nazis, has opened a campaign to persuade people not to use discoveries in medical science made by Jews. Such discoveries, he says, are "merely unpunished methods of Jewish robbery and murder, clothed in the mantle of exact science."

Among the medical men whose methods he would discard are such giants as Virchow, Koch, Wasserman, and Ehrlich—men whose work has saved unnumbered thousands of lives and prevented an infinity of human suffering.

Cutting off your nose to spite your face is sane and sensible compared with carrying your race prejudice to an extreme like this.

COMING TO SEE AMERICA

For a great many years, the transatlantic tourist trade has been a one-way proposition. Hundreds of thousands of Americans have crossed the ocean each year to tour Europe, have gained much in the way of pleasure and cultural advancement as a result, and have helped to enrich Europe by their expenditures; but there never was more than a thin trickle of European tourists coming to have a look at America.

Now the tide has begun to turn. The devaluation of the dollar has made an American tour less expensive, and Europeans are taking advantage of it. Steamship companies believe that there will be more European visitors in America this summer than ever before.

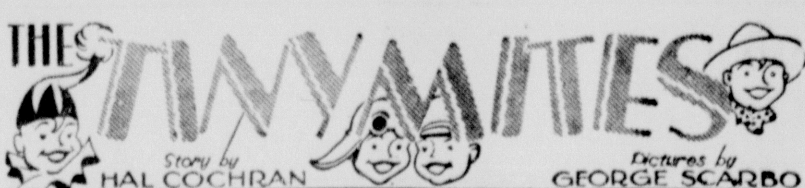

The development is a wholesome one. Americans can learn much, and become better citizens of the world community, by visiting Europe. Europeans can do as much for themselves by visiting America.

Reversal of the time-honored trend ought to be a good thing for everybody concerned.

The American theater is disintegrating rapidly, and will reach new levels of despair unless the movies come to its rescue. The stage needs the talent and the genius that the screen has wrested from it.—Producer Arch Selwyn.

The next generation must keep this land true to the traditions of its founders. The only "ism" we want to see here is Americanism.—Bernard S. Deutsch, president of New York Board of Aldermen.

Internal combustion and internal consumption will not blend. Please tighten up the lines.—Mayor LaGuardia, opening war on drunken drivers.

It wasn't very long until the Tiny-mites and gnomes were still. For quite a while they'd bounce around, and they were all tired out.

Once Doty "woke and shouted, "Say! Please, Copsy, do not snore that way. You must be having awful dreams, the way you squirm about."

Woe Copsy didn't even peep, and Doty soon fell back to sleep. Then came a "Who-o-o" from up above. It was a great big owl.

Brave Scouty sat up, with a start and shouted, "Will you please depart! How can a person rest, when you sit on a limb and howl?"

Once more the owl said, "Who-o-o," and then it flew right out of hearing when a stick was thrown in its direction. This made Scouty smile.

Thought he, "I'll try to sleep some more, though, likely, more 'who-o-os' are in store. If I am bothered just once more, I'll chase that bird a mile."

The bird, however, stayed away.

DAILY HEALTH

KIDNEY STONES: I

Medical science has several theories on the possible causation of kidney stones. It does not, however, as yet possess definite information as to why stones form in the kidneys.

With much circumspection and repeated warnings that the experimental work is only of tentative significance, there was recently issued from the Cleveland clinic a report on the experimental production and solution of kidney stones in white rats. In substance the experimenters report that a high proportion of the rats when fed a diet deficient in vitamin A (found in milk, butter, egg yolks, etc.) developed stones. These were found

Then came the first real sign of day. The sun peaked over a nearby hill and flashed in Duncy's face.

He "woke and said, "Hello, there sun. I'll get right up and have some fun. I'm crazy to ride the ink man's crazy horse around this place."

"None of the rest will bother me. They're sound asleep as they can be." Then to the horse he quickly went. "Get up," he loudly cried.

"I am your master, so obey! Up on your back I'm going to stay till you decide to take me for a dandy little ride."

At first, the horse behaved real well, and then it ran around pell-mell, and kicked its legs high in the air. This woke up everyone.

Woe Goldy laughed and loudly cried, "Oh, Duncy tried to steal a ride, and now he's being tossed around. I hope he's having fun."

both in the bladder and in the kidneys.

Three factors apparently contribute to the formation of urinary stones. Each of the three is traced to vitamin A deficiency.

First there is what is called a keratinization of the linings of the associated regions as well as of other portions of the body which are lined with mucous membranes.

This makes the linings less resistant to bacteria, for the lining cells of the mucous membranes lose their living substance and become "toughened."

meant by keratinization by comparing, say, the skin of the palm of his hand with the lining membrane of his mouth. The horny skin of the hand is formed of keratin. The soft, smooth lining of the mouth is mucous membrane. The keratinization of the mucous membranes renders them less resistant to invasion by bacteria.

Second, and consequent to the keratinization urinary infection develops. This infection is ascribed to the loss of resistance to bacteria.

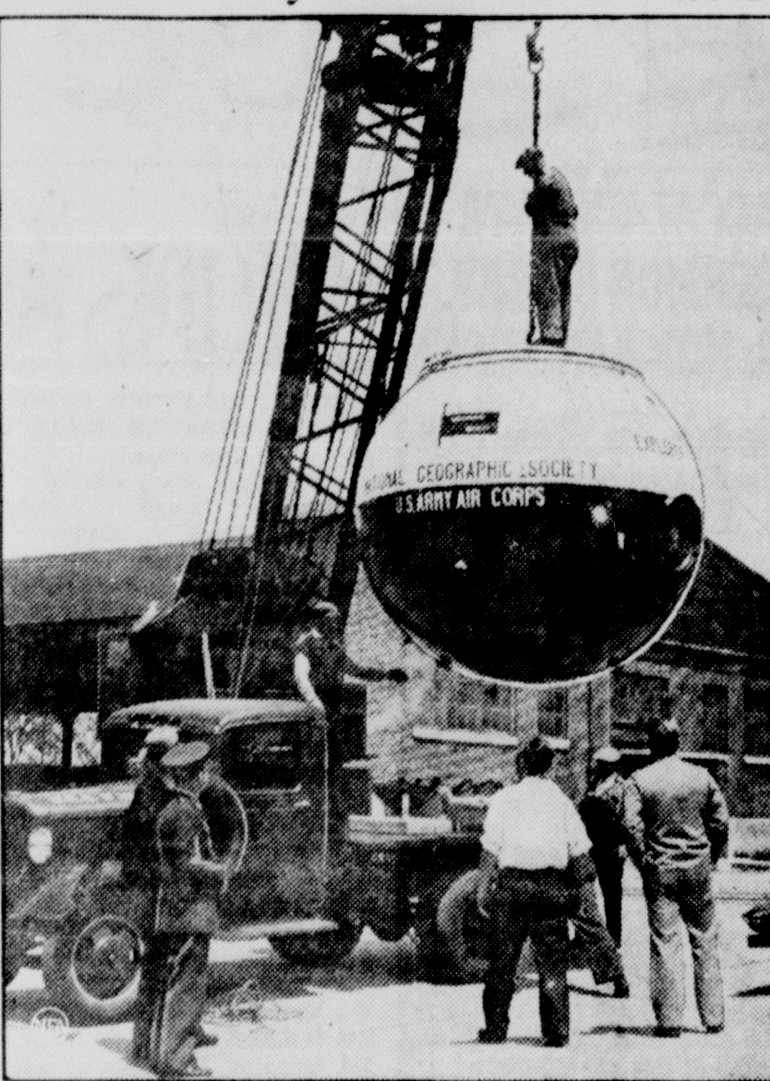

Third, associated with the vitamin A deficiency diet is alkaluria or the alkalization of the urine. (Normally urine is acid in reaction.)

These three factors produced in a large percentage of the experimental white rats stones in the bladder and the kidneys.

JAPAN ALLEGES IT MUST INVADE NORTHERN CHINA

Punishment of Roving Bandits Given as Alleged Excuse

Tokyo, May 21—(AP)—The possibility of Japanese military action against alleged bandit activities in northern China was disclosed today in dispatches to the Rengo (Japanese news agency).

Japanese military leaders were reported meeting at Tientsin to consider what measures to adopt in face of the asserted operations of several thousand Chinese irregulars in the demilitarized zone south of the Great Wall.

These reports followed earlier advice that Japanese troops were moving on the Great Wall with the intention of entering northern China on an "anti-bandit expedition."

The absence of any further reports of military activities in the vicinity was interpreted as an indication that the movement of troops into China proper may have been delayed to enable Japan to make further protests against the alleged prevalence of banditry.

The war office asserted there was no intention of occupying Chinese territory and that the troops would be withdrawn to Manchoukuo as soon as the "bandits" had been punished and dispersed.

HAVE CROSSED WALL

Tientsin, China, May 21—(AP)—The Chinese press reported today that 200 Japanese troops traveling in motor trucks have crossed the Great Wall and reached Tsinhsui in the demilitarized zone of North China.

The reports said the troops were "chasing a group of Chinese residents who oppose the Japanese in southern Jehol."

"A large number of Japanese airplanes is assembled at the Malanyu Great Wall pass," they added, "and one of them has been flying over Peking and Tientsin."

WEAKLY DEFENDED

Shanghai, May 21—(AP)—Chinese authorities said the demilitarized zone in northern China into which Japanese troops were reported advancing today was only weakly defended by between 6,000 and 9,000 special Chinese police, widely scattered and incapable of offering any resistance to the Japanese.

The Chinese said they repeatedly had requested permission from the Japanese army to reinforce their police force in order to cope with the bandits which have been streaming into that area from the northeast but that the Japanese had declined to permit more than 9,000 Chinese police to enter the zone.

Will you investigate our Accident Insurance Policy. No one can afford to be without it. Evening Telegraph.

BIG THREE OF PACIFIC COAST MOBILIZE TEAMS

San Francisco, May 21—(AP)—Three California universities mustered their track and field teams today for another eastern invasion in quest of the championship of the I. C. A. A. A., whose meet they have dominated for more than a decade.

Southern California, California and Stanford, defending champion, will send squads to Cambridge, Mass., for the competition May 31 to June 1. A fourth, University of California at Los Angeles, will dispatch at least one man, Jimmy Luvall, who won the I. C. A. A. A. 400-meter title in 1933.

The Trojans, favorites because of smashing victories over all western opposition, were bothered by financial troubles, and it was doubtful whether money-raising schemes would bring in the $5,000 necessary for a full team, but Coach Dean Cromwell named 10 men as a nucleus to make the trip.

ARMOUR READY TO TRY AGAIN

On Golf Course Where He Won First and Only Crowns

Chicago, May 21—(AP)—Tommy Armour is all set to make a try for another National Open golf championship on the course where he won his first and only one.

Armour did not lead the Chicago district's belated qualifying round at his home course, the Medinah Country club, but he gained a place among the 14 who will go to Oakmont, Pa., June 6-8 for the big show. Armour won his only open title at Oakmont in 1927, beating out Harry Cooper in a playoff after they had tied at 301 for the regulation 72 holes.

Armour shot 77-76-153 to tie with Jim Foulis, another Chicago pro, for eighth place.

J. P. (Sonny) Rouse, Chicago professional, who had a hole in one, and Denny Shute, British Open champion in 1933, led the qualifiers with 148's. Rouse had rounds of 73 and 75, while Shute played it the other way around—75-73.

The other qualifiers were: Alex Stuppel and Frank Walsh, Chicago, 150; Al Anderegg, Chicago, 152; Al Huske, Elgin, Ill., and Bob MacDonald, Chicago, 154; Dick Metz, Chicago; F. M. Poland, Gary, Ind., amateur, and Eddie Williams, Chicago, 155, and George M. Smith, 156.

Smith won the last place by defeating Jack Hutchison, Chicago; Herb Johnson, Chicago; Harry Hampton, Chicago and a pair of amateurs, Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and Johnny Banks of Chicago, on the second hole of a playoff.

DIXON ENTERED IN NATION-WIDE SAFETY CONTEST

Reduction of Traffic Accidents Object of Great Campaign

The city of Dixon has officially entered upon a safety campaign to eliminate traffic accidents and fatalities. Mayor William V. Slothmore announced this morning and Chief of Police P. D. Van Bibber has been appointed director of the campaign. Dixon is entered with a group of Illinois cities having a population of more than 10,000 residents, and upon the invitation of Ernst Lieberman, chief highway engineer of the state.

Mayor Slothmore stated this morning that the campaign would be conducted to conform to the order issued yesterday by Commissioner Cal G. Tyler, for a city wide enforcement of all traffic rules and ordinances. George B. Shaw was named to head the educational campaign in the national safety contest.

The Dixon Mayor this morning was in receipt of the following communication from President John E. Long of the National Safety Council of Chicago, which acknowledged Dixon's entry into the nation wide contest:

Proof of Interest

"It is a pleasure for me to acknowledge the receipt of the entry of your city in the National Traffic Safety contest of 1935.

"Never before has it been so imperative for city officials in the United States to concentrate their attention on the problem of automobile accidents. These tragic mishaps are increasing and, from present indications, they will continue to increase unless methods of prevention which are now well known and thoroughly tried and tested are universally adopted.

"It is the dual purpose of this contest to acquaint cities with these methods and then to give national recognition to the cities which accomplish results.

"Best wishes to you in this work. Entering your city is proof of sincere interest in the safety of your citizens."

CAMPOREES IN LEE, OGLE IN JUNE PLANNED

Camporees will be held for Scouts of Lee and Ogle counties next month. The Lee county Camporee will be held Friday and Saturday, June 14 and 15 at the Amboy City park adjacent to the fair grounds, and the Ogle county camporee will be held at the Pines State Park, by special permission, Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22.

Scouts will assemble at 10 a. m. on the opening days of Camporees, and must bring their own equipment and food for four meals. Carrying the required packs as if on a march, the Scouts will be taken in trucks to the sites of the Camporees. Each patrol will be graded on camping ability from the moment of entry to the grounds to the close of the Camporee.

Competitive events will be held at both camps. On Friday nights at both camps, after the supper hour Courts of Honor will be held, conducted by Council Court of Honor Chairman Clark. In case of rain the Ogle county Court of Honor will be held in the Oregon Coliseum, and the Lee county Court in Amboy high school.

The opening days of both Camporees fall on holidays of special significance to Boy Scouts of America. Flag day falls on June 14, and the birthday anniversary of "Uncle Dan" Beard, falls on June 21.

Body of Missing New York Child is Found

New York, May 21—(AP)—Eight-year-old Shirley Evans, missing from her home in Jackson Heights, Queens, since Friday night, has been found dead a short distance from her home. Her body was found in a building, buried under three or four feet of earth.

The child's body was discovered by Romo Pelligara, Negro employed in the wide-spread search which had enlisted the aid of police, CCC workers and Boy Scouts.

Pelligara uncovered the body in a factory building under construction 250 feet from the Evans' home. Charles P. Sullivan, Queens District Attorney, however said the position of the child's body "looks like it might have been covered by a landslide, possibly while the girl was playing near the excavation."

St. Annes-on-the-Sea, Eng., May 21—(AP)—Three Americans were among the victims today in the process of elimination of the second day of the British amateur golf championship.

John Forsman of New York, Guy Hayes of North Andover, Mass., and Robert A. Stranahan of Toledo, O., fell by the wayside, but partially to make up for these defections T. Sufferin Tailer, Jr., of Piping Rock, L. I., and Robert Sweeney, formerly of New York and now living in London, scored victories.

William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco, the defending champion, and Captain A. Webster-Bullock of Monterey, Calif., the only other Americans scheduled to play today, were not due to start until late in the afternoon.

Forsman bowed out by the count of 5 and 4 to I. Lyle of England. Hayes dropped a 2 and 1 decision to Dr. A. B. MacCallum, a Briton, and Stranahan was defeated by D. Coates of Fair Haven, two up.

Sweeney, playing a belated first round match, caught up with the field by eliminating A. Walton 2 and 1, while Tailer's advance to the third round was accomplished by one of the most topsy-turvy performances of the tournament. The tall, sturdy American required 42 strokes for the first nine holes to reach the turn all even with Andrew Jamieson, Jr., former Scottish titleholder, and then he shaved two strokes off par on six incoming holes to triumph 4 and 3.

Tailer's opponent in the third round tomorrow will be the able and dangerous Eric Fiddan, former British Walker Cup player and finalist in this championship in 1932.

Harvey Shaffer of New York and Richard M. Chapman and Dan R. Topping, both of Greenwich, Conn., the other surviving Americans, are not scheduled to play until tomorrow.

Tolley Won Easily. Cyril Tolley, winner of the championship in 1929 and now rated second to Little in the betting, recorded an easy 6 and 4 victory over William Tulloch of Cathkin Braes in abated first round match. Tolley is in the same half of the draw as Little and long-hitting Leslie Garnett, another Briton, who carried Little to the 19th hole in the semi-final round of the 1934 title tournament. J. H. Bryant, the 22-year-old "unknown," who contributed a major upset yesterday in defeating Jock McLean, the second betting favorite, was ushered out of the tournament in the second round by W. Fraser Lee of Stockport on the 19th hole.

Carnera Expects To Rule Fistic Realm This Year

Springfield, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Primo Carnera predicts he will return to the fistic heavyweight championship.

Avowing he "wouldn't be surprised" if Jim Braddock beats Max Baer and that he would sidetrack Joe Louis next month, the 268 pounder said that would provide the buildup so "me and Braddock could have a good fight in September."

After arbitrating a wrestling show here, Carnera returns by plane today to Hot Springs, Ark., whence he will move training quarters to New York.

Dundee Hurdles New Middleweight Foe in Comeback

Pittsburgh, May 21—(AP)—With comparative ease Vince Dundee has taken another hurdle in the comeback struggle he hopes will regain the middleweight crown he lost last summer to Teddy Yarosz. Although Vince took some punishment in the early rounds, the veteran ex-champ from Newark won 10-round decision last night from Anson Green, the Homestead Negro, battering him by the simple process of wearing his opponent down. Dundee weighed 163 and Green 161.

ARMY WORMS THREATENING STATE CROPS

Bran Bait Proves Most Effective Control Plan

Urbana, Ill., May 21.—One of the most severe outbreaks of army worms that Illinois has had in recent years is threatened within the next three to five weeks, and farmers should be on guard to protect their crops, according to a warning by W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History Survey and of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Although the outbreak will be spotted and will not occur in all sections of the state, severe damage will be done in many areas, Flint said. It will be well to keep careful watch on all heavy stands of grain or heavy bluegrass pastures during the next month and get the worms before they cause serious damage, he said.

While army worms may destroy entire areas of bluegrass pasture or fields of small grain or young corn in a short time, they can be completely and cheaply controlled by the use of poisoned bran baits. The bait that has been most generally used has a base of 1 pound of paris green mixed dry with 25 pounds of bran. When this is thoroughly mixed, there is added 3 gallons of water in which 2 quarts of cheap molasses, preferably black strap, has been thoroughly dissolved.

A newer bait, with which J. H. Bigger, field entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History Survey, has been working during the past year for outworm control, uses oil instead of water and molasses. This bait is made by thoroughly mixing the 25 pounds of bran and the 1 pound of paris green or white arsenic. Then 2 quarts of a light grade oil of an S. A. E. 20 viscosity is added. No water or molasses is used. However, the bait should be thoroughly mixed so that the oil gets on every particle of the bran. Tests have shown that this bait is equal to the molasses one, is easier to make and is somewhat cheaper. However, it has not been tested against the army worm.

Even Application
Which ever bait is used should be applied evenly and uniformly over the ground at the rate of approximately 10 pounds an acre. If the worms are on the move, the bait should be sown over a strip about 100 feet wide across their line of march. The molasses bait should be broadcast at dusk of the evening. The oil bait can be put out earlier in the day as it does not dry out as readily as the molasses bait.

Either of the baits may be used on cattle pastures without danger if no more than 10 pounds an acre is put out and the bait is not applied in lumps. An end-gate seeder may be used for distributing the bait or it can be sown by a man on horseback having boxes of the bait attached to the sides of the saddle.

Warnings that a severe outbreak of army worms is imminent are based on the heavy flight of adult moths during the past month. The female moths will lay their eggs in heavy stands of grain such as wheat, oats and rye or in heavy bluegrass pasture. Each female lays about 800 eggs. The worms hatching from these eggs are very tiny at first and usually feed for ten days to nearly two weeks without being noticed. Then they begin to grow very rapidly and their appetites increase enormously. In this stage they sometimes destroy all the food in the fields where the eggs were laid, and the growing worms march out seeking new sources of food. They feed on all kinds of grasses and to a slight extent on legumes, although they usually do not cause any serious damage to red clover, sweet clover or alfalfa.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

All last winter I kept saying I thought you would get a good price for eggs this spring. And the fact is that the market probably has gone higher than you or I or anybody else thought it would.

People usually begin selling hens this time of year. Last summer, you remember, because of the hot weather and drought, so many were sold that the price dropped way down.

But not this year!
One farmer told me he had more poultry than he had room for and that he had to sell some of his birds. But instead of selling any of his hens, he sold his spring chickens!

I am glad I don't have to make that choice. I would never be able to make up my mind which to sell. The price of eggs is mighty fine now, but I am expecting to see an equally good price on spring chickens in the fall.

Keep Your Laying Hens
There is one thing sure: With feed more plentiful now you certainly want to keep every hen you can as long as she will lay enough eggs to pay for her feed.

She deserves to be pampered! Give her good, clean feed. Give her plenty of fresh, clean water. (Eggs are two-thirds water; so she needs a lot of it.) Give her a clean nest, and don't ask her to share it with too many other hens.

If she doesn't lay eggs after that kind of treatment, you'd better sell her!

It's never good business, of course, to feed hens that aren't producing. They will eat up profit faster than the laying hens can make it for you!

—But Sell Your Roosters!
There is one thing that should be sold and sold right now—your roosters! They should be taken out of the flock as soon as the hatching season is over.

If eggs are fertile, they start to incubate at 66 degrees. So in the summer time it is almost impossible to market eggs of the best quality if you have roosters in your flock.

Besides, there is no point in feeding 85-cent corn to roosters, especially when you can sell them for more than they have been worth for a good many years.

Sincerely Yours,
Frank Priebe

She's a Winner

Chicago, Ill.—An Illinois girl, Miss Dorothy Lee Gillins of Ashmore, is the national champion in the twelfth annual meat story contest for high school students according to an announcement of a committee of prominent home economists meeting in Chicago to pick the winners. Miss Gillins won this coveted honor from a field of 12,269 entrants—home economics students from 682 high schools of 48 states.

The title of Miss Gillins winning essay was, "Meat-Its Selection and Use." With this honor, Miss Gillins is also awarded a university scholarship in home economics, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, sponsor of this contest since its inception.

Other scholarship awards went to the following: Eastern district of 11 states, Miss Olive Clark, Trumbull, N. Y.; Southern district of 12 states, Miss Emma Laura McKnight, Brinkley, Ark.; Western district of 12 states, Miss Dorothy Ann Jay, Madera, Calif. Awards were also made to writers of the highest ranking essays in each state.

The judging committee making the awards was headed by Miss Frances Swain, director of household arts, Chicago public schools. The other members were, Miss Josephine Wylie, former associate editor of Better Homes and Gardens; Miss Evelyn G. Halliday, associate professor of home economics, University of Chicago; and Miss Ruth Straight, president of the Illinois Home Economics association.

In her winning essay, Miss Gillins stressed the points for the housewife to observe in choosing meat cuts and the value of the newer knowledge of meat cooking. "In the old days, roasting and broiling were considered quick methods of cooking," she states. "Today we turn down the heat when we put a roast in the oven, with much better results. The meat will shrink less, be more evenly browned and much more palatable."

"Equipped with a knowledge of selection and meat cooking, the housewife now approaches the meat shop with more confidence. Being familiar with the cuts of meat and knowing how to turn almost any cuts into a delectable dish, she is able to serve meat more often and save money too. Modern methods enable her to do this with less effort." The essay was attractively illustrated.

The board reports that interest in this contest is increasing. The number of entrants was 1,275 greater than last year and there was an increase of 116 in the number of high schools represented. The value of this contest in stimulating interest in classroom studies is emphasized by teachers, many regarding it as the climax of the year in their meat courses. It is bringing a vital knowledge of meat to those who will be the meat buyers of tomorrow.

ADJUSTMENT OF PRODUCTION IS BEING URGED

Fords Invited To Parley
Talking Co-Operation

Industrial and scientific leaders meeting at conference in Dearborn, Michigan, last week, were invited by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association "to support and co-operate with efforts now being directed by organized farmers to adjust production intelligently to needs and demands of markets as they exist until new industrial outlets are fully developed."

Henry and Edsel Ford of the Ford Motor Co. were hosts to the group of some 150 industrial, agricultural and scientific leaders who met to consider new non-food uses for farm products. Many high officials of motor car manufacturing, chemical and other industrial concerns attended.

"There is nothing inconsistent between efforts to provide new outlets and new markets for American farm products," Smith said, "and the program of the American Farm Bureau Federation in supporting adjustment of farm production to the needs and requirements of markets."

He emphasized that efforts of organized farmers for many years have been directed toward obtaining control of their surplus products and disposing of them in foreign markets at world prices, a principle long used by American industry, as an essential factor in sustaining domestic price levels.

Failure of business leaders to recognize the merits of the program advanced by organized agriculture in 1927 and 1928, the speaker pointed out, is responsible in part, at least, for the more radical treatment the problem has demanded in recent years. Much of the confusion over and criticism of present efforts of farmers to adjust their production to the needs of market requirements at profitable price levels, he emphasized, is either based upon misunderstanding or lack of information.

Smith cited statistical data developed by an economist employed by a well-known mercantile company to the effect that business and industry and factory payrolls go up and down with farm prices and farm buying power. This study revealed that a 10 per cent increase in farm income resulted in a 10 per cent increase in factory payrolls, an 11 per cent increase in distribution of profits of all enterprises, a 30 per cent increase in profits of the U. S. Steel Corporation, a 16 per cent increase in profits of International Harvester Co., a 22 per cent increase in profits of General Motors, etc.

Commenting on the sharp and drastic reduction in industrial production from 1929 to 1932, Smith said, "If price levels in industry are to be sustained through planned or controlled production, then, I submit, the same principle should be fully tried out in agriculture for the same purpose—to sustain price levels and thus maintain a stable national farm income."

Auto Tires In Need of Annual Checking Over

With Old Sol beginning to beat down on the highway in good summer fashion 's a mighty good idea to check over tires and tubes before doing much driving, warns the insurance division of the Illinois Agricultural Association. Tires rot out as much as they wear out, and winter is the season that works the greatest havoc. Now that summer is close at hand, trips will be planned, speeds will be greater and your tires will take a beating they may not be able to stand. Practically every driver has had his or her experience with a blowout at high speed. Too many don't live to tell about it. Those that do are often heard to say, "I don't see why it happened. The tires looked all right." The moral is, have a thorough inspection made of tires and tubes now. If there's any doubt, by all means get new ones. Tires are cheap. Life is dear.

Dosing Sheep for Worms Reduces Losses in Flocks

Early summer is a desirable time to treat sheep and lambs for the removal of stomach worms which cause unthriftiness and sometimes death in farm flocks. During warm weather the stomach worm eggs in the manure of infested animals hatch in a few days and the larvae crawl up on grass blades where they are swallowed by healthy sheep and lambs as these animals graze.

Infested flocks in central and northern states should be dosed with a copper-sulphate solution at intervals of from 20 to 30 days. In case the flocks are also infested with tapeworms, a mixture of copper sulphate and nicotine sulphate should be used.

If the flock is not doing well, it is a good idea to have a local veterinary visit the place and see if there are complications that require treatment other than that used for removing parasites. Further information concerning parasites of sheep and control measures may be obtained from county extension agents, state colleges of agriculture or from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Changing the flock from old to fresh pasture is an aid in the control of stomach worms. Treated flocks go into the breeding season in better condition than flocks not treated. Treated sheep also yield more wool per fleece than those injured by parasites.

The local Future Farmers Chapter will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday May 21. At this time officers for the coming year will be elected. Also plans for the annual Home Economics-Ag. Club picnic will be made.

POULTRY HAS NEW MARKETS

Three Classes of Birds Marketed For Auction

This is one of the seasons of the year that sees the greatest flow of birds to market. Hens that have completed their profitable production are finding their way to market, plus the large amount of young stock, particularly male birds that are now ready to be disposed of.

In various sections of the country the live poultry auction markets have indicated much concerning how increased profits may be derived from the birds that are sent to market.

Generally speaking there are three classes of birds marketed at the auction. These fall under the classes of "straight," "as is" and "culled." Members are urged to grade their poultry before sending to the market, according to these three classes. Only poultry in first class condition should be marked as "straight." All birds that are in ordinary good condition should be sold "as is," but poultry that is out of condition or in full moult should be put in the "cull" class.

One of two cull birds in the "straight" or "as is" class will frequently reduce the entire value of that crate so that the good birds actually bring less than if the one or two culls had been left out. This rule applies just as accurately whether birds are going thru an auction or through a commercial house.

The interesting thing about this matter of grading poultry is that cull birds when segregated and sold in a class by themselves will frequently bring a surprisingly high price, whereas as above mentioned, if a few are put in the crate of good birds they bring no end of argument.

A word about preparing birds for market would not be amiss. Many times an abortive attempt is made to put some flesh on to thin, skinny birds a few days before they go to market. This is usually of no avail and sometimes entails actual loss in weight. Likewise does it do little good to attempt to crate-fatten birds that are being shipped any distance to market as the shrinkage on this soft flesh is so great as to render the operation unprofitable.

The best rule for the poultryman or farmer to follow regarding conditioning his birds for market is to so feed that the birds are in the best condition at all times and, therefore, they will at the same moment be in the best market condition. For instance a bunch of young stock on range having plenty of growing mash before it all the time together with a proper quantity of hard grain will be in the best flesh and best condition for market at any time the feeder decides to market. Likewise a flock of laying hens that are in the best condition for production are at the same time in splendid market condition. Farm range stock not having access to mash will, of course sometimes respond surprisingly well to a moist fattening mash but best management practiced today includes the feeding of mash at all times, consequently the birds are ready for market at any time.

Proper management of the birds before they leave the farms for market and the selecting of the birds into the proper classes will make greater returns for market poultry.

I. A. A. CONCLAVE SITE WILL BE CHOSEN FRIDAY

Invitations from Illinois cities for the annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association in January, 1936, will be considered at the May meeting of the board of directors on Friday, May 17.

It has been the practice of the Association to meet in a different Illinois city each year and in line with this policy recent annual meetings have been held in Quincy,

HAIL INSURANCE BEING TAKEN BY STATE FARMERS

Want Harvest Money
Despite Possible
Hailstorms

While recent rains and warmer weather have sent farmers' hopes soaring for bumper crops in 1935, chinch bugs and hail damage are threats still to be reckoned with, reports the Illinois Agricultural Association.

So far no one has devised insurance against crop damage from the chinch bugs, but some years ago farmers themselves saw to it that they could get protection against loss of growing crops through hail damage.

Reports from the insurance division of the IAA show that Illinois farmers this year are not going to let hail cut into their returns, and are hurrying to insure against this type of damage. Winter wheat all through the state is reported in a thrifty condition and many applications have been received to insure this crop against hail. As one farmer said as he showed his policy to a friend, "I'm going to have harvest money in spite of hail."

SOY BEAN OIL PAINT GAINING FAVOR; FARMERS

The quickened interest of manufacturers in the use of farm products in industry, the tremendous increase in the use of soy oil paint by farm and home owners recalls the long fight made by organized farmers of this state to overcome the opposition of certain paint manufacturers to the use of soybean oil as a substitute for imported linseed oil, according to the Illinois Agricultural Association. It was not until a friendly manufacturer took an interest, and in co-operation with the University of Illinois and the Farm Bureau worked out a paint formula that is now considered the best of its kind.

Increased soybean acreage and opposition of certain paint manufacturers practically forced Illinois farmers themselves to go into the paint business so as to provide a stable, profitable outlet for their beans. Today, Illinois farmers paint their buildings with a soy oil paint and grimly remind the world to "buy our oil and we'll buy your paint."

Danville, Peoria, Rockford, Springfield and others.

Thus far invitations have been received to hold the next meeting in Decatur, Chicago, Rockford and Joliet. A committee will probably be appointed to investigate accommodations in the various cities desiring the next convention, and report back to the June meeting of the board when a decision will be made.

The advertisements bring you news of better things to have and easier ways to live.

HOT WEATHER PROGRAM FOR FOWLS GIVEN

Poultry Producer Must Contend With Mites

BY PAUL G. RILEY
Formerly Professor Poultry Extension
Purdue University

The months of June, July and August are the three hardest poultry months of the year during which to keep faith in the chickens making a profit, to pay expenses and to handle such troubles as worms, mites, lice and hot weather losses. However, these three months largely determine next year's profit on the pullets being raised.

The summer months show low prices for both poultry and eggs. During the fall egg prices are high and poultry prices low and in the spring poultry prices are high and eggs low. The summer is the only period when prices on all poultry products are low. Unless young and old birds are watched closely—great numbers of mites and lice are allowed to develop, which reduces production of layers and ruins the growth and development of breeders. Watch closely for the presence of mites and lice and treat house and birds so they are eliminated.

Most poultry flocks cannot lay enough eggs, nor do they have enough cockerels to sell so that the income is sufficiently great to pay the feed bill, consequently, either the hens or pullets or both are put on partial rations. This results in a slight immediate saving, but in a great future loss.

Hens which go into a moult in the summer, rarely come back before January or February. Those hens that lay until October or November come back into production at the same time. Keep the hens laying all summer.

Pullets which are roughed thru the summer come into production at least two months later in the fall, than they should and during this low months we have the highest egg prices of the year and the golden opportunity for a real fall profit is missed.

Feed a good laying mash to the hens during the summer.

Feed the pullets a good growing mash all summer.

Keep hens and pullets free from parasites.

Above all, don't lose faith in the chicken business. It is always good for the good poultryman.

VALUE OF SPAN. DOUBLOON

The old Spanish doubloon varied in value. From 1730 to 1772 it was worth about $8.24; from 1772 to 1786, $8.68; 1786 to 1848, $7.87. The coinage of doubloons has ceased.

—You will find that you profit greatly by reading the advertisements in the Dixon Telegraph.

If you'd like some MONEY to buy feed for your baby chicks, why not sell some of your hens—the ones that aren't laying, of course. We'd be glad to send our man out to cull your flock for you. There is no charge for his work you know. Just let us know when you'd like to have him come.

MOTHER in

MAY 21 is the 54th birthday of the American National Red Cross. Organized in 1881 under the leadership of Clara Barton, this society has grown fast until today it has more than 3,700 chapters throughout the United States and its possessions with a membership of nearly 4,600,000.

The inadequacy of army medical staffs in early wars led to organization of the Red Cross. The International society was formed in 1864 and almost immediately nations agreed to respect neutrality of the Red Cross workers in battle. The United States joined this agreement a year after the American Red Cross was formed.

In 1931 the United States issued a stamp commemorating the 50th anniversary of this society. It illustrated "The Greatest Mother in the World," from a Red Cross poster painted by Laurence Wilbur.

MID-WEST VOTE WORTH FIGHTING FOR SAYS G. O. P.

Was Nearly 30 Per Cent of Total Polled in Election of 1932

Chicago, May 21.—(AP)—Republicans from nine prairie states today regarded their "grass roots" conference at Springfield June 10-11 as the battle call to win back the middle west, which tumbled from its historic position as a G. O. P. stronghold in the Roosevelt landslide of 1932.

The stake is a rich one. The section's 11,515,379 ballots for both presidential candidates in 1932 formed 29.84 per cent of the total popular vote of 38,583,698.

The nine states gave Roosevelt 6,975,753 votes, 30.57 per cent of the 22,821,857 he received from the entire nation. They gave former President Hoover 4,539,626, or 28.80 per cent of his 15,761,841. The section's 119 electoral votes went to Roosevelt, as he carried each state to form 25.21 per cent of his 472 electoral votes.

In the section the Democratic candidate polled 60.57 per cent of the votes cast, as against the 59.15 per cent he received of the total vote cast in the nation.

A recapitulation of the 1932 vote in the section showed:

	Popular	Rep.	Electoral	Dem. Rep.
Ill.	1,882,304	1,432,756	29	0
Ind.	862,054	677,184	14	0
Ia.	598,019	414,433	11	0
Kas.	424,024	349,498	9	0
Minn.	600,806	363,959	11	0
Mo.	1,025,406	564,713	15	0
Neb.	359,082	201,177	7	0
Okla.	516,468	188,165	11	0
Wis.	707,410	347,741	12	0

Totals 6,975,753 4,539,625 119 0

In three of the states—Missouri, Oklahoma and Wisconsin—the vote was more than 2 to 1 for the Democrats. Minnesota's majority for Roosevelt was slightly less than 2 to 1. Illinois gave him 449,548 more than Hoover in 3,315,000 votes cast. The Democratic majority in Kansas was less than 100,000, and in Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska less than 200,000.

Gain in Strength

But Republicans claim a gain in strength throughout the district since 1932. Justus L. Johnson, chairman of the Illinois Republican state central committee, asserted that in every Illinois town under 10,000 population the G. O. P. last November made a comparative 20 per cent gain over the 1932 returns.

"This spring's downstate elections in city, township and county gave Republican majorities not had in 10 years," Johnson said. "In Nebraska, in a state 100 miles longer than Illinois, we saw a Republican candidate for governor, with a campaign fund of only $5,000 for printing, mailings and meetings, get 48.5 per cent of the vote against all material arguments that the New Deal was able to present in the state of Senator Norris."

Six of the nine states—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma—have Democratic governors and legislatures.

Landon Possibility

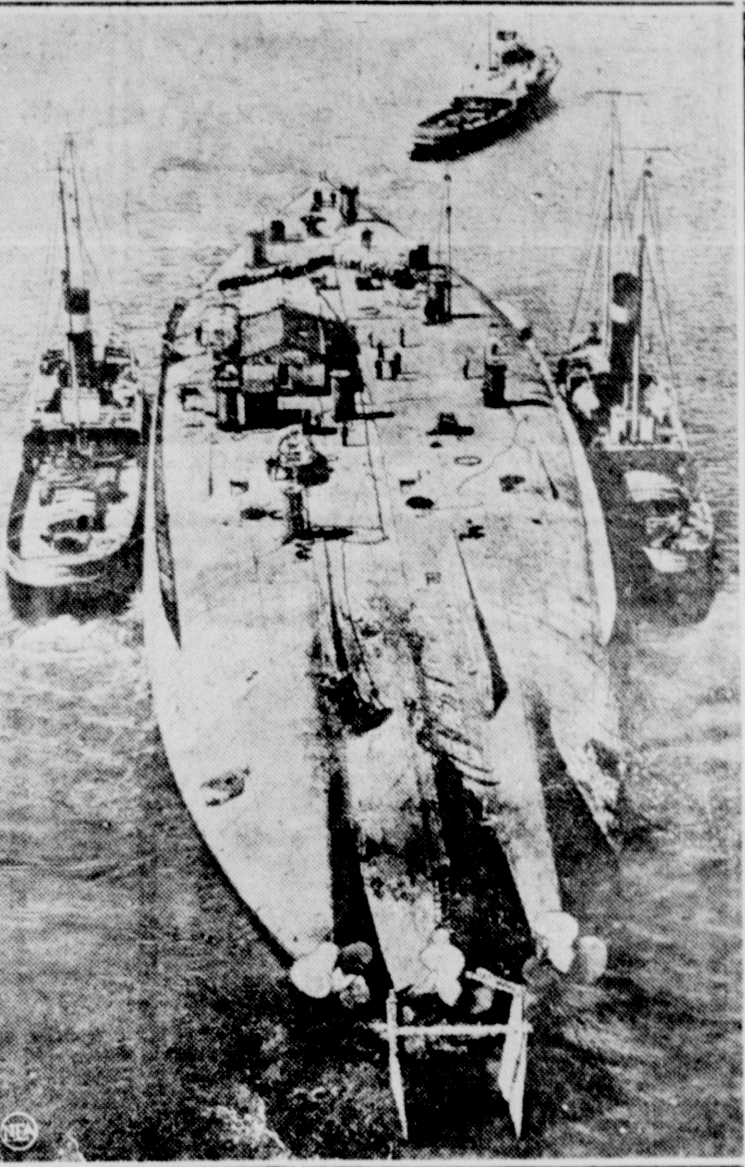

Kansas' Republican governor, Alf M. Landon, has been mentioned as

Father and Son to Die by Noose

Father and son will go to the gallows together for the first time in Ontario's history on June 27, unless clemency is granted. Frank MacTemple, 55, above, and Fred MacTemple, 31, below. They are under death sentence for killing Constable Colin MacGregor a year ago when he went to their home in St. Thomas to arrest the son for theft.

"Bottoms Up!" on the Big Drink

Once the loss of the Imperial German Navy, it was bottoms up for the 35,000-ton battleship Bayern, which salvagers brought the huge craft to the surface at sea. It had been scuttled after the World War. Now the big ship was towed across 200 miles of ocean to the salvage yard at Rosyth, England, while 15 men lived on the upturned bottom is illustrated here.

of presidential timber. Wisconsin's chief executive, Philip LaFollette, is a Progressive, and Progressives control the state's house, with a coalition of Democrats and Republicans ruling the senate.

Minnesota is headed by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, leader of the National Farmer-Labor party. Legislators of the state are elected on a non-party basis. A conservative element controlled both houses at the recent session.

In congress Democrats have 67 representatives and 12 senators from the section. Republicans 21 representatives and four senators. Progressives 7 representatives and 1 senator and the Farmer-Labor party 3 representatives and 1 senator, with Republicans or Progressives outnumbering Democrats from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Kansas.

MICHIGAN WANTS IN
Springfield, Ill., May 21.—(AP)—Michigan may be the tenth state participating in the midwestern "grass roots" Republican convention here June 10 and 11.

As Harrison E. Spangler, G. O. P. committeeman for Iowa and chairman of the convention committee, came here to confer today about local arrangements, it was announced that Michigan Republicans had inquired about hotel reservations.

C. J. Doyle of Springfield, former Illinois state chairman, said he had received a telephone call from Detroit stating that tentative arrangements were being made to send a special train.

The information was that Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and other Michigan officials wanted to attend the "grass roots" meeting. Spangler said special Pullman trains have been arranged for the transportation and housing of many of the delegates from the nine states—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

Meeting with Spangler and local leaders were Jacob D. Allen of Chicago, who set up headquarters as general secretary of the conference; Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, Illinois state chairman, and Lee Nixon of Indianapolis, who is expected to be sergeant-at-arms.

THE WORD "BAT"

The word bat, as the name of the flying mammal, was an apparently sudden shift of name taking place about 1575. Prior to that time, for some three centuries, the name was variously bakke, bakke, bake, bak, back. The earlier middle English name was from the Scandinavian atten-bakke, "evening bat." Never before and never again will subscriptions be so valuable as now and up to ten P. M. tomorrow night. Any one of the following have a good chance to win the $100, in cash, depending on what is done before the extra prize offer ends tomorrow night. WORK RELIEF WAGE SCALES ARE ATTACKED

President of A. F. of L. Calls Roosevelt's Rates "Unsound"

Washington, May 21—(AP)—Asserting that he feared "great social unrest" would spring from the work relief wage rates President Roosevelt has fixed, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said he had called federation leaders to a session today to decide on a course of action.

"Inequitable" and "unsound"
were some of the adjectives Green flung at the wages which will apply on much of the $4,000,000,000 work program. The wages will range from a low of $19 a month to a high of $94, depending on the type of labor and the locality.

"I am very much afraid," Green said, "that great social unrest will result from these widely varying rates. There is certain to be discontent and I would not be surprised if it led even to widespread strikes among relief workers."

Attacked in Senate
Earlier Senator McCarran (D.
Nev.) had directed hotly-worded criticism at the schedule. McCarran, leader of the defeated drive to force the payment of wages prevailing in private industry, asserted that Roosevelt's executive order would "completely wreck the country's wage scale." He indicated that he was preparing to attack the wages on the floor of the senate.

Administrative officials denied the new rates, which represent a slash as compared with PWA scales, would "wreck" the pay structure. Although issuing no immediate formal statement over their signatures, they contended the schedule is higher than it may seem at first glance because those affected will work for 12 consecutive months. Because of long layoffs in the private construction industry, they argued, the work relief wages will compare favorably with the private figures when yearly totals are considered.

Claims Nudism Wrecked Home

Nudism wrecked her home, Mrs.
Adele Farnum, former stage and film actress, testified in asking $1000 a month alimony and a divorce in Los Angeles court where she is shown here with her daughter, Melinda, 4 months old.
She charged that Ralph G.
Farnum, theatrical agent, frequented nudist camps and struck her when she refused to accompany him.

Professional and technical $61 to $94.
Region 2, comprising Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia: Unskilled $20 to $45; Intermediate $38 to $58;
skilled $44 to $72; professional $48
to $79.

Except by special permission, at least 90 per cent of those working on a project must come from the relief rolls and no person under 16 shall be employed.

With Igoe no longer a primary
possibility the slate makers jumped at the chance to award, in their calculations, his post to a downstate. Many picked Wilson, former state's attorney of Alexander county and for many years
a member of the state legislature, for the job as congressman-at-large.

In making the slates, those who compile the "winter books" are forced to consider incumbents.
They find Cook county residents in five of the nine major jobs which come up next year. And so far as they have been able to determine Senator Lewis, Governor Horner,
Secretary of State Edward J.
Hughes, Attorney General Otto
Kerne, and Auditor Edward J.
Barrett will all be candidates to succeed themselves. Until Igoe was appointed to his new job they had another Cook county name to add to the list.

Four From Downstate
Leaving the five on the slate they now have four jobs which they can award to downstate—Lieutenant Governor, State Treasurer and the two posts as congressman-at-large.

John C. Martin of Salem, former state treasurer, has already said he would be a candidate for that job again. Martin Brennan of Bloomington, congressman-at-large, and Lieutenant Governor Thomas P. Donovan of Joliet have expressed no intention to do otherwise than seek re-nomination.

Putting Wilson or some other downstate on the slate for Igoe's congressional seat, while serving to obtain a better balance for the 1936 ticket from a geographical standpoint, raises another question.

Cook county has long demanded congressional representation. But ten of Illinois' 27 congressmen are elected from districts wholly or partially within that county which has 52 per cent of the state's population.

Residents of that county might not take kindly to any proposition which, in effect, would reduce their congressional representation by one seat.

FINANCED DRIVE
FOR NRA 'MARCH'
IS NYE'S CHARGE

Says NRA Office Holders
and Code Employes
Are Backing Move

Washington, May 21 — (AP)— Plunging into the bitter congressional fight over continuing NRA, Hugh Johnson is seeking to muster support for President Roosevelt's two-year extension plan among little businessmen, wage earners and housewives.

The former recovery administrator appealed to them last night to tell their senators the blue eagle is not "a political hot power." He suggested that they send petitions
"giving facts."

Loying aside for the moment his differences with Donald R. Richberg, NRA's present chief, Johnson turned his vocabulary on the organization's critics in a radio address last night.

"The charge of monopoly comes from monopolists, that of oppression from oppressors, that of regimentation from industrial martinets," he said.

"Better Kill It Now"
Siding with house Democrats, Richberg, and the president against the senate-approved plan to extend the agency or a nine and one-half months, the man who helped create NRA declared:

"The effect of the senate bill would plunge all business into blank uncertainty. It would be far better to kill NRA now. Yet to kill it outright might produce the worst business setback since 1932."

Johnson spoke as preparations were made for a rally of NRA supporters in the capital tomorrow.
The meeting already was under fire
in the senate, where Senator Nye (R., N. D.) contended it was a "well financed drive upon the part of NRA office-holders, code authority officials and code enforcement employes to impose their will upon the congress in the matter of the extension of NRA."

Borah Declines Bid
Turning down an invitation to attend the rally, Senator Borah (R., Idaho) asserted those coming for the gathering "are here for their own selfish interests" and are "asking for the power to inflate prices."

Ward Cheney, chairman of the committee arranging the conference, replied in a statement to the press that these attacks had so increased tapping business men that increased pledges of attendance had resulted and a larger hall had been engaged.

Tank Rumbles on, Grim Italian Threat to Abyssinia

Vividly illustrating the might of one arm of the Italian military power which threatens Abyssinia, with new complications rising in Africa, is this army tank, caught by the camera in a spectacular shot as it went off a wall nine feet high which stood in its path. Landing safely, it continued its attack journey in maneuvers held in Italy before the critical eyes of Premier Benito Mussolini.

DEMOCRATS OF ILLINOIS TALK OF NEXT SLATE

Igoe's Appointment as U. S. Attorney Solved a Real Problem

Springfield, Ill., May 21—(AP)— Democratic leaders, now considering an organization slate for the 1936 primary, may go from one geographical extreme to another in selection of a candidate for congressman - at - large to succeed Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, recently appointed U. S. District Attorney for Northern Illinois.

In the many tentative slates under consideration today the name of Alexander Wilson of Cairo, executive assistant to Governor Horner, appears frequently as a possible organization choice for the nomination to the post Igoe is vacating.

Igoe's appointment made the slate makers happy, partially solving one of their major problems.

No matter how they juggled names they were still confronted with the fact that a big majority of their 1936 candidates would probably be residents of Cook county.

Four From Cook Co.
Before Igoe's withdrawal from the congressional picture there were six residents of that county who, as incumbents, had to be considered as organization possibilities for the nine nominations to statewide positions which will be made in April.

With Igoe no longer a primary
possibility the slate makers jump-

PIRATES RISE SOX FALLING; LOOP RATINGS

White Sox Lead Is Cut To Game And a Half

By Herbert W. Barker
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Despite a patched up infield consisting principally of a lot of players named Floyd, the Pittsburgh Pirates have driven themselves above the 500 mark in the standings for the first time since the opening day of the National League season.

With Floyd Herman at first base in place of Gus Suhr, Floyd Young subbing at second for Harry Lavagetto and Floyd Vaughan at short as usual, the battling Corsairs rattled Forbes Field fences with a home run, five triples, two doubles and six singles yesterday and walloped the league leading New York Giants, 11-4.

Carl Hubbell, usually a Pittsburgh Nemesis, started for the Giants but retired in considerable disorder after four innings during which the Pirates thumped him for five runs and six hits. Allyn Stout and Frank Cagle followed but they all looked alike to the Bucs.

Blanked Giants
Red Lucas, making his first start of the campaign, blanked the Giants with three hits for eight innings. He folded up a bit in the ninth and gave up five hits and four runs. Woody Jensen led the Pirate attack with a home run and two singles while Young kicked in with a pair of triples.

Suhr, suffering from a split finger, went to right field in the ninth and thus kept his string of consecutive games played intact. He has appeared in 505 in succession.

The victory left the Pirates in fifth place a half game behind the Cardinals and only four games out of first place. The Giants lead over Brooklyn was shaved to a game and a half. In the only other National League game, Bill Lee held the Boston Braves to six hits, and Chicago's third place Cubs won, 5 to 0 to draw to within a half game of the Dodgers.

Sex Lead Out
The Chicago White Sox's 7-2 beating from the New York Yankees, coupled with Cleveland's 4-1 conquest of the Boston Red Sox, cut the White Sox lead over the Indians to a game and a half in the American League. The Pac-Hose solved John Broaca for nine hits but the ex-Yale star was effective in the pinches.

Carl Fischer, making his first start for Chicago was reached for ten hits by the Yankees, including a home run by Tony Lazzeri and a double and triple by Jesse Hill. Ferrell's homer was all that saved the Red Sox from a shut out by Cleveland as Oral Hildebrand kept eight other hits well spaced.

The champion Detroit Tigers mowed down Philadelphia's Athletics 8-6 in ten innings and now trail fourth place Boston by only one percentage point. Washington, another game to the rear, trounced the St. Louis Browns, 8-2, as Russ Van Atta, former Yankee, failed in his debut for the Browns.

Wolver Stars To Again Decide Golf Singles

Evanston, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Whether Johnny Fischer or Charles Kocsis, Michigan stars both, would win the individual crown, apparently was the only point left to be decided today in the Western conference's annual golf championship tournament.

Michigan, thanks to sub-par shooting over the Kildeer Country club layout by Fischer and Kocsis, went into the final 36 holes of the medal play affair, virtually assured of a fourth consecutive team title. The Wolverine four-man total for yesterday's two rounds was 575, 15 strokes over par, and 27 strokes better than the total of Northwestern, the runnerup.

Fischer, winner of the 1932 and 1933 individual titles, and Kocsis who won the crown last year while his teammate was in England with the Walker cup team, wasted little time in making it a struggle between them for honors. Fischer scored 69-70-129, one under par. Kocsis just reversed the order with 70-69-129.

A third Wolverine, Allen Saunders, was tied for the next place with Bob Brown of Northwestern at 148. Woodrow Malloy, the other member of the Michigan array, was fifth with 149.

Following Northwestern and its team total of 602, came: Illinois 624, Ohio State 630, Minnesota 631, Iowa 633, Wisconsin 636, Indiana 642, Chicago 655 and Purdue 662.

GLOW WORM GROTTTO
The New Zealand Glow Worm Grotto is one of the strangest sights. On the ceilings of the vast, gloomy underground caverns twinkle millions of little lights. Their illumination is sufficient to light up the interior, making the place almost as bright as a ballroom.

SOX MANAGER IS PROUD OF TEAM DESPITE DEFEAT

Dykes Doesn't Expect To Win Pennant, He Insists

New York, May 21—(AP)—Jimmy Dykes, back in the big town to take a bow with his front-running Chicago White Sox, may be a trifle surprised to find his club settling such a dizzy spring pace, but he won't admit it, even after absorbing an opening blast from the Yankees.

"I'm not claiming any pennants in May with an outfit that finished in the cellar last year," smiled the Sox pilot, "but neither am I making any secret of the fact we are a whole lot better ball club and are aiming to give 'em all a scrap the rest of the season."

"Go on, Jimmy, you tell 'em," joshed his old-fashioned champion day with the Athletics Al Simmons. "You take advantage of your opportunities now, with all these newspapermen and photographers giving you so much extra attention."

"You boys know that's the up-off," added Simmons, turning to a group of sports writers. "It has been years since you have given the White Sox a tumble. We've been pinching ourselves to make sure we are on top but I know it's true now."

GREAT GOLF By Art Krenz

RUNYAN'S TRAP SHOT LED TO VICTORY IN MET OPEN PLAY

On the last hole of the Metropolitan Open of 1934, played at Echo Country Club, Westfield, N. J. Paul Runyan required a par to beat Walter Hagen and Whiffy Cox, who had scores of 288.

After his drive, a bad second shot put him in a trap to the right of the green, and the diminutive pro saw victory slipping out of his grasp.

But, taking a firm grip on himself, Runyan walked into the bunker with a niblick in his hand. Studying and planning carefully, he swung, and out popped the ball to roll within four feet of the pin. Realizing that at least a tie with Hagen and Cox was assured him, Runyan steeled himself for that putt and sank it for the needed par and a winning round of 71.

Recently, at Miami, Runyan told me how he played that and similar explosion shots. He lays the face of the club well back, and takes a stance to the left of the hole.

Missing Steeds Arouse Mystery of "Horsenaping"

Chicago, May 21—(AP)—All concerned with the great Aurora race track "horsenaping" mystery had adopted a waiting policy today. M. R. Warren, owner of the four missing thoroughbreds, was waiting for word of his property. The Aurora stewards waited for word from Warren concerning a $50 fine.

The fine was slapped on Warren Saturday when Nonpartisan, one of the four horses, which the owner claims were "horsenaped," failed to show up for the second race. Not only that, but the stewards ordered Warren's racers suspended—even though he insisted he couldn't find them.

My car 'waltzed' around—swerved and finally came to rest on the brink of a ditch. If it had gone over, I'd still be in there. . . they could have covered me up. . . But no more of these close shaves for me! From now on I'm riding on Goodrich Safety Silvertowns."

Let us put a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns on your car. They are the only tires in the world with the Life-Saver Golden Ply—the amazing Goodrich invention that makes Silvertowns three times safer from high speed blow-outs. Remember, Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires. And they give you months more mileage at no extra cost.
